

Travel on the rail networks of England, Scotland and Wales is a treat not to be missed.

The Britrail Consecutive Pass is valid for any 2, 3, 4, 8, 15, 22 days or 1 month consecutive travel.

A day of rail travel is a 24 hour period from midnight to midnight. This allows for unlimited travel on any number of trains for each day of use.

BritRail Consecutive Pass Information

General

- To start using the pass it must be validated at a British train station before your first journey.
- This pass does not cover the London Underground.

Are passholder seat reservations compulsory?

Seat reservations on trains within Britain are not compulsory, they are optional. You can purchase your rail pass and just simply hop on the train you wish to travel on. Of course it depends on which class you purchase. If you purchase First class then you can sit anywhere in First class and the same rule applies for a Second class pass. If you have a certain date and time you would like to travel then you can reserve a seat locally at the train station.

Inclusions
